I am a balanced normal person. I'm amazed at the lack of common sense in our country about issues such as this. Absolutely there is too much violence on TV. But, not just violence. There is too much sexual material! Absolutely, both have a negative impact on children and youth. I happen to be a Bishop in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and I get to interview our youth and children on a regular basis. I see its impact first hand. It is a continual battle to help them overcome their problems when the messages sent over the airwaves are saturated with permissiveness, promiscuity, and a "me first" attitude. Again, common sense tells me there must be boundaries and that children thrive when the boundaries are clearly explained and enforced. Its good to be open-minded, but not so much so that our brains fall out!
